

Appendix B

Reflection Essay Prompt

After finishing the project, together with your groupmates, you will collaboratively submit a 5-page reflection essay. You may use the following questions to guide your thinking as you reflect:

What have you learned about the genre conventions and rhetorical situations of Wikipedia articles?

What was the main topic and article you worked on for this Wikipedia editing assignment? (For example, violence against the LGBT community, gender inequality, and so on).

What gaps have you found in the Wikipedia article you worked on (For example, in content, style, organization, images, references, and so on)?

How did you address the gaps in your Wikipedia edits?

What difficulties have you encountered while expanding the Wikipedia article?

If you have encountered difficulties, how did you manage the difficulties?

Has this assignment helped build your critical thinking and literacy as an academic writer?

If your answer to the previous question is yes, how has this assignment build your critical thinking and literacy as an academic writer?

How will this writing assignment help you with future assignments in other writing contexts and your fields of study?